

Summary

I'm a well-rounded, intellectually superior, and incorrigibly modest polymorph. I seek a position in which my unsurpassed knowledge and inviolable humility can be optimized, particularly in a setting in which my intellectual inferiors do my bidding with neither question nor hesitation. Since I've already done everything worth doing, challenging me can be a challenge. But I can be an invaluable asset to any organization, especially the ones in which I'm the smartest, best-looking, and most important person.

Education

Ph.D. Intellectual History. This makes me the most interesting man in the world or the most insufferably pretentious snob at any gathering.

B.A. Popular Culture. Combined with my post-graduate work, my undergrad ensured I'd be able to bore anyone, anywhere, at any time.
